OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, May 10, 1866.

Both branches of Congress have voted that they will not refuse to admit a new State to the Union simply because it has not agreed to universal suffrage. The vote I allude to was upon the Colorado bill. An amendment providing that Colorado shall be kept out till she strike the word "white" from her constitution was moved in the Senate and also in the House and voted down. The idea uppermost was this: that Congress should not keep a new State out of the Union because it had failed to do entire justice to its colored citizens, imitating the example of many old States of the Union. Mr. Sumner, in the Senate, was very firmly set in opposition to the Colorado bill, and Mr. Stevens in the House was equally obstinate. Mr. Stevens remarked to Ashley, of Ohio, (who had the bill in charge), "If the President were half as shrewd as he is indignant he would put you 'abolitionists' into a very disagreeable position."

"How could he do that?" asked Ashley.

"Easy enough," answered Stevens. "He would only have to say, that while he favor the exclusion of a State which had once been in the Union because its constitution contained the word "white," yet he was opposed to any new States with such a discrimination. That would floor you and all your friends to kingdom come!"

"Well," replied Ashley, "I would be willing to be very badly whipped for the sake of getting the President to take so respectable a position!"

The opposition claim that the Republicans are very inconsistent—that they have one rule for Colorado and another for Tennessee. This allegation is untrue, but suppose it were correct? Has Colorado ever been in rebellion against the Government? It is the great fact that the South is rebellious that leads Congress to demand, [illegible] gro suffrage, but that the negroes shall not be counted as a basis of representation in Con[illegible] while they are disqualified at home. [illegible] essary as a security for the future. [illegible] that the President asserts that Con[illegible] business to make conditions, but [illegible] ample. Without any authority w[illegible] of national security he made [illegible] rebellious States, and [illegible] Congress declines to [illegible] last week a commun[illegible] by the President [illegible] back immense [illegible] rebels' on [illegible] elected as office[illegible] strong assumpti[illegible] been destroyed [illegible] them had been [illegible] and the money of [illegible] but the President [illegible] rebels, and after th[illegible] ary" conduct of C[illegible] tions of the Constit[illegible] anything—he is restra[illegible] gress is tied up so that [illegible] vote and patronage it [illegible] Executive. Such is [illegible] gress, thank Heaven [illegible] not go out of the wa[illegible] of a President who [illegible] Mr. Stanton has st[illegible] friends in Congress [illegible] reference to the Pre[illegible] These remarks were [illegible] to the astonishment [illegible] every other member of [illegible] the meeting was fur[illegible] to send to all parts [illegible] work of the Preside[illegible] to affect public senti[illegible] was effected by the Pre[illegible] with the agent of the [illegible] well known, the Preside[illegible] tend Cabinet meetings [illegible] President or Mr. Sew[illegible] cretion (shall I say [illegible] of a private Cabinet [illegible]

It is still a question [illegible] the account is correct. [illegible] still (many of them, at least [illegible] that Mr. Stanton is with the[illegible] question, but there is really [illegible] lief. Senator Wade asked M[illegible] two since, what truth there wa[illegible] he had gone over to the Presiden[illegible] tion policy, and he replied: "[illegible] I agree with the President's [illegible] not commit me to his portion [illegible] reference to restoration." This was a [illegible] of his position, for he did not for a moment deny that the account in the newspapers was upon the whole correct. The fact is, Mr. Stanton is in a most unpleasant position. He was, during the war, the leader of the war sentiment of the country and committed all the doubtful and offensive acts. His zeal led him into it, and imbued with a forcible policy he could not, as Secretary of War, avoid the commission of numberless acts which made him bitter enemies. The Copperheads now propose to admire the President but they hate Mr. Stanton, his Secretary. They urge him day after day to dismiss the zealous Secretary, and there is no certainty that in time they will not succeed provided Mr. Stanton disagrees with the President. Dismissed from his place, or compelled to resign by a state of things no man could be expected to endure, Mr. Stanton would be at the [illegible] his old enemies. The temptations of [illegible] tion are great, and the simple fact [illegible] respecting the revolution of public [illegible] Men who were prominent in the war [illegible] the future, because the President is be[illegible] much of his patronage and confidence up[illegible] and rebel sympathizers. General Grant is [illegible] popular but it will not be long before the rebels will attempt to strip him of his hard earned honors. The House has passed the bill establishing the grade of General in the army for the purpose of honoring General Grant. The President can not help nominating him for the position, and has no desire to put any one else into it. He has not yet gotten so far on the road to anti-negroism as that. Meantime, Gen. Grant goes quietly on his way saying little or nothing and receiving the honors showered upon him without making any fuss over them, or acting as if he was at all embarrassed by them. However the quarrel between Congress and the President may end, it is certain that Grant, if he lives, will be the next President. Messrs. Raymond and Stevens both nominated him in the House the other day.

Mr. Williams of your State, prepared an amendment to the bill from the Reconstruction Committee, one day last week; it was as follows:

> That whenever any one of the States lately in insurrection shall ratify the above proposed amendment, as required by the Constitution of the United States, and shall conform its constitution and laws thereto, the Senators and Representatives from such State, after the 4th day of March, 1867, if found duly elected and qualified, shall, upon taking the required oaths, be admitted into Congress: Provided, That Senators and Representatives from Tennessee and Arkansas, respectively, shall be admitted, if elected and qualified, as aforesaid, when either of said States shall ratify, as aforesaid, said proposed amendment.

In offering it Senator Williams made a brief speech from which I quote a single paragraph:

> I invite attention to the fact that by this amendment Senators and Representatives from the so-called confederate States are not allowed to take their seats in Congress until the 4th day of March, 1867, with the exception of Tennessee and Arkansas, giving the loyal States an opportunity, if they desire so to do, to make the proposed constitutional amendment a part of the Constitution of the United States before that time. Should the loyal States adopt that amendment, I have little doubt that it would be adopted by enough of the other States to make it a part of the Constitution before the 4th of March, 1877; but if the loyal States should refuse to adopt the amendment and say that they do not want the guarantees and security for which it provides, then, so far as I am advised at present, I can see no good reason for refusing any longer to receive representation from these insurgent States. Tennessee and Arkansas are made exceptions. Their Senators and Representatives are to be received as soon as they ratify this constitutional amendment.

Senator Conness made an interesting speech in the Senate on Thursday of last week, upon the practice the government has of making purchases here of articles for the Pacific coast, which can be had there cheaper than here. He made the following amendment:

> Provided, That the quartermaster's department shall in supplying clothing and blankets for the military service on the Pacific coast, give a preference to articles manufactured there, when the same can be obtained without paying an increased price therefor, and when the quality shall be found to be of an equal or superior character.

Mr. Conness explained his amendment at length. I only give an extract:

> I wish to say, in explanation of this amendment, and I call the attention of Senators to it, that the quartermaster's department, and the Indian department also, are now, and have been, sending out to that coast, articles of blankets and cloth of the most inferior character, mostly manufactured in England, costing the Government from 25 to 50 per cent. more than our domestic manufactures, made entirely of wool, can be obtained for at San Francisco. I have at my room now—I did not know that this bill would be called up to-day—specimens which have been sent to me of the blankets furnished by the department with the prices that they cost the Government, and also specimens of the blankets that are manufactured at San Francisco. Those made there are made entirely of wool, and are obtainable on the ground at less than the original cost of the foreign article; and we are paying in addition for the foreign inferior article the entire cost of transportation to that coast. In addition to that, while the domestic article is made entirely of wool, at least one-half or two-thirds of the foreign article is infused with cow's hair.

Mr. Nesmith said:

> They manufacture in Oregon the best blankets that I know of in the world; and I presume they manufacture them equally as good in California. It is a well-known fact that the wool, which is a staple article of production in that country and in all the States and Territories of the Pacific coast, is remarkable for its cheapness. The climate and the grazing facilities are such that it costs little or nothing to raise it; and a great deal of it is shipped to this side. While [illegible] is somewhat higher there than [illegible] the manufacture [illegible] of a better quality [illegible] price [illegible] the [illegible] ection with [illegible] that [illegible] I took great [illegible] the [illegible] from [illegible] purchase [illegible] I found [illegible] were purchased there; [illegible] son of the articles found that those that were purchased of a quality ve[illegible] superior to those which there.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 11, 1866

The Present Situation

Yesterday afternoon we received a dispatch from Roseburg stating that Coos and Curry counties give forty Union majority. Lockhart the Union candidate for the Assembly is therefore doubtless elected. If so it gives us a majority of one in the House. We already have six majority in the Senate and therefore have control of both branches of the Legislature. On joint ballot we shall have a majority of seven, thus insuring the election of a true Union man to the United States Senate. There can no longer be a doubt that we have elected our Congressman, Secretary of State State Treasurer and State Printer, and according to the most reliable figures we can get our candidate for Governor has a majority of about one hundred. There is a bare possibility, but we think there is no longer a probability, of Mr Woods defeat. Unless the counties east of the mountains give larger Democratic majorities than hitherto reported our whole ticket is triumphantly elected. The returns from Umatilla county bear very strong evidence of the perpetration of fraud. The Democrats have only fifty majority on their county ticket, yet they count up some two hundred and thirty five on the State ticket. What could have caused this unusual disparity, and their unexpectedly large majority on the State ticket but a resort to their old time practice of improvising majorities to suit the requirements of the occasion? If the Democrats do not get more than six hundred or six hundred and fifty majority east of the Cascade mountains we think the whole Union ticket is elected in spite of Price's army, California importations and vagabond Democrats from Washington and Idaho Territories.

Capital and Industry Needed.

The population of Oregon is steadily increasing, and the corresponding increase of capital must soon tell very sensibly upon all the interests of the State. The growth of Oregon has never been so rapid as that of some of the other States, but it has been quite steady and healthful, and never so much so as now. But our general prosperity is not what it should be. Oregon is an agricultural State, yet we produce too little from the soil. True, large quantities of the principal grains are grown, and the market is sometimes quite over stocked with the leading productions of agriculture, but we do not produce half our own butter, cheese, canned fruits and vegetables, and a hundred other articles with which we should supply our markets. Every year we bring vegetables from California for our tables, almost every winter we bring oats and barley from that State to feed our horses, and in early spring it is always impossible to find good beef or mutton at our stalls. We shall probably produce more grain and hay this year than ever before, and we ought also to have more and better beef, pork, mutton, cheese, butter, etc than formerly. No fear but it will pay. It will pay ten fold more than the same business in the Eastern or Middle States, if we only use the industry and economy that characterize the people there.

In manufacturing, our enterprise is yet far behind our requirements. In some departments the field is only partially occupied, in others, it has not been entered at all. Of woolen cloths, we manufacture some varieties which are in general demand, but there are many descriptions of woolen goods of which we have not attempted the manufacture. Our agricultural implements could and should be made here, thus not only saving the cost of transportation, but furnishing profitable employment for our own workmen. The growth of the State in population and wealth encourages the hope that these, and similar enterprises of importance, will, ere long, be undertaken.

A Sailor Beheaded.—A few weeks ago a terrible accident occurred on the Hudson river, near West Point. As the sloop James Coates was rounding the point one of the hands named Benjamin Hunt attempted to shove the boom across the deck, and at that moment a heavy gust of wind struck the mainsail, driving the boom from one side to the other with lightning rapidity. The main sheet curled about Hunt's neck, and immediately tore his head from his body, taking it out thirty feet into the river. The lifeless trunk fell covered with blood upon the deck. All efforts to secure the head failed.

Democratic Majorities.—In our election returns we have given Colonel Kelly the benefit of reported majorities in Columbia and Jackson, which, upon the official count, we believe will be reduced. In Columbia, the reported majority of 45 is given to Kelly. This is probably the majority against Olney, who ran farther behind than any one else, according to the best information we can get. Jackson has given 124 for Kelly. Whether this is the majority after taking out the Union vote at Fort Klamath, reported 95 majority, is quite doubtful.

The Presidential Campaign Opened.—The Amador (Cal.) Dispatch, called by its cotemporaries of like political faith, "a staunch Democratic paper," has opened the Presidential campaign for 1868-7-8, by nominating Gen. Robert E Lee. General Lee is the most thoroughly and reliably Democratic leader now outside of Fortress Monroe. A little doubt about whether Jeff Davis will be hung or not for treason, renders him something less available than General Lee, but his Democracy is none the less unquestionable.

Official Returns.—The official count of votes in Marion and Clackamas counties will appear to-morrow. We have given, elsewhere, sufficient to indicate the range of majorities.

State Items.

Samuel Kerr and another man got into a drunken scuffle at Champoeg on last Monday, in which Kerr got a leg broken.

Mr Charles White, Sheriff of Wasco county, has taken his departure—by the first boat up Salt river—for Idaho, where he intends to reside hereafter.

Up to Friday night the Columbia river had fallen at the Dalles about two feet. The water is now entirely out of Main street.

Washington Territory News

The Vancouver Register of the 9th furnishes the following:

SESSION OF THE SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court of this Territory will be opened at Olympia next Monday. Letters from Judge Dowell render it probable that he will be present, which will make a full bench. It will be remembered that the regular January term could not be held, on account of there not being a quorum of the Judges in the Territory, and this is a special term. Questions of importance in which our people take a deep interest will be tried.

NEW LODGE OF I. O. G. T.

On Wednesday evening last a new Lodge of the I. O. G. T. was instituted at this place by H. K. Hines D. D. G. W. C. T. for this Territory. The new Lodge is styled Columbia Lodge No. — of Washington Territory. The officers installed are A. G. Tripp, W. C. T.; Mrs H. M. Stiles, W. V. T.; J. Cockerell, W. S.; George Worden, W. F. ELECTION NEWS

In this county (Clarke) the election has gone Democratic, that party electing all its candidates by varying majorities.

Our information from Cowlitz county is that it has gone Union and that Cowlitz and Wahkiakum elect Hon B. Huntington Union to the Legislature.

The counties on the Columbia have all gone Democratic, by what majorities we are not informed. From those on the Sound we have not as yet heard.

QUARTZ DISCOVERIES.

Some Californians en route from Walla Walla to Blackfoot have discovered four distinct ledges of gold and silver bearing quartz some 18 miles from that city and took up 30,000 feet on each. They have a quantity of the croppings down for assay. They express confidence that Idaho and Nevada will be equalled or excelled. The location is in this Territory.

THE ELECTION IN PIERCE COUNTY

A correspondent at Steilacoom sends us the following election news:

The election in Pierce county results in the success of the Democratic ticket with the exception of one Representative and the School Superintendent. The majorities range from ten to sixty. N. T. Kelly (Dem.) and Fred. A. Clark, (Union,) are the Representatives elect.

The way Democrats Manage Elections

Umatilla, June 6th 1866

Editor Oregonian:

The Judges of election in Umatilla county were all Democrats. In Wild Horse Precinct the vote was taken by ballot. As the tickets were handed in the voters names were taken. After all had voted, the judges commenced at the first name, took out the tickets from the ballot box and checked them off in the order in which they occurred. As it happened, the first name was that of James Wardwell, a Union man, who was put down as voting the Democratic ticket. Wardwell said nothing till Taylor Green's name was called (a secession Democrat), who was put down as voting the Union ticket. Wardwell went to him and remarked that he thought he was a Democrat but that he had voted straight Union. Green said it was a "d—d lie, and if the records showed such a thing, the records were wrong." The Judges certified that the returns gotten up in this irregular manner were correct. The whole thing being managed by Democrats of course they could make whatever returns they pleased and in what manner they chose.

[It is very evident from our correspondent's statement that the men from Washington or Idaho who managed the election in Umatilla county were ignorant of the laws of Oregon or they would not have proceeded to vote by ballot when the Constitution itself requires that voting in this State shall be viva voce. Ed. Oregonian.]

General Wade Hampton's Letter

The following is General Wade Hampton's letter to Senator Reverdy Johnson, which the latter caused to be read in the United States Senate recently:

Wild Woods, (Miss.) April 21, 1866.

To the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, United States Senator—Sir: A few days ago I saw in the published proceedings of Congress that a petition from Benjamin Bowles, of Columbia, South Carolina, asking compensation for the destruction of his house by the federal army in February 1865, had been presented to the Senate accompanied by a letter from Major General Sherman. In this letter Gen. Sherman used the following language: "They" the citizens of Columbia, "set fire to thousands of bales of cotton rolled out into the streets, and which were burning before I entered Columbia. I myself was in the city as early as nine, and I saw these fires and knew efforts had been made to extinguish them, but a high and strong wind kept them alive. I gave no orders for the burning of your city, but on the contrary the ravages and I believe the conflagration resulted from the great imprudence of cutting the cotton bales, whereby the contents were spread to the winds so that it became an impossibility to arrest the fire. I saw in your Columbia newspaper the printed order of General Wade Hampton, that on the approach of the Yankee army all the cotton should be burned, and, from what I saw myself, I have no hesitation in saying that he was the cause of the destruction of your city."

This grave charge made against me by General Sherman having been brought before the Senate of the United States, I am naturally solicitous to vindicate myself before the same tribunal. But my State has no representative in that city. Those who should be there are debarred the right of entrance. In those Halls there are none to speak for the South; none to participate in the legislation which governs her; none to impose the taxes she is called upon to pay, and none to defend her or to vindicate her sons from unjust accusations, injustice or slander. Under these circumstances I appeal to you in the confident hope that you will use every effort to see that justice is done in this matter. I deny most emphatically that any cotton was fired in Columbia by my order. I deny that the citizens set fire to thousands of bales rolled out into the streets. I deny that any cotton was on fire when the Federal troops entered the city. And I most respectfully ask Congress to appoint a Committee charged with the duty of ascertaining and reporting all the facts connected with the destruction of Columbia and thus fixing upon the proper author of that enormous crime the infamy he deserves.

I am willing to submit the case to any honest tribunal. Before any such I pledge myself to prove my positive orders, by direction of General Beauregard, that no cotton should be fired; that not one bale was in the city when Sherman's troops took possession of the city; that he positively promised protection to the city, and that in spite of this solemn promise his soldiers burned it to the ground, deliberately, systematically, atrociously. I therefore, most earnestly request that Congress may take prompt and efficient measures to investigate this matter fully. Not only is this due to themselves and to the reputation of the United States army but to justice and to truth. Trusting that you will pardon me for troubling you I am, etc.

WADE HAMPTON

The reading of the above letter made quite a scene in the Senate. Mr Fessenden protested, and Mr. Sherman confessed that he had never shed many tears over the burning of Columbia. Of Wade Hampton's letter he said:

The impudence of the whole thing surpasses imagination. He writes to the Senate that the State of South Carolina is excluded from representation in this body. And why is she excluded? Because they violated their oath, and have for years been trying to get out of the Union, and now that they are beaten and defeated they whine like whipped curs to get back.

Mr Johnson said that he had shown the letter to Mr Sherman, and he had advised him to present it.

Mr. Sherman—For the purpose of refuting it.

Mr Johnson did not look upon the letter as whining because the State of South Carolina was not represented here. The writer had only alleged that as a cause for sending the letter to him (Mr. J.)

Mr Fessenden hoped it would not be received at all. It had no business here.

Mr Conness said he could not vote to send this petition to any Committee of this body, and he was only surprised that the Senator from Ohio (Mr. Sherman) should think it necessary to vindicate the character of our distinguished General against the assaults of such a man as Wade Hampton. Let these men explate their crimes before they come here with their complaints.

Mr. Wilson hoped the Senator from Maryland would withdraw the letter.

Mr. Johnson withdrew it.

State cases.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—The police were notified yesterday afternoon that a dusky maiden of the forest had attempted to commit suicide by stabbing herself in the [illegible] at her place of habitation a short distance below [illegible]. Repairing to the locality of the tragic scene she was found gasping for breath, but enough remained to give her vitality of life up to a late hour of the evening when our reporter last heard from the case. No cause is assigned for the unnatural and rash act, and as the sufferer appears to have been surrounded with all the comforts usual to the wandering tribe of which she belongs, a bark hut, a bunch of straw, and a dirty blanket, it is a matter of curiosity what should have actuated her. The weapon used by her in the attempt to put an end to her earthly career, was a large butcher knife, the blade of which penetrated the vital parts to the depth of about four inches.

ARRIVAL OF THE BARK SAMUEL MERRITT.—The bark Samuel [illegible], Capt. Manson, 38 days from Honolulu, with a full cargo of sugars and pulu, arrived yesterday, in tow of the steamer John H. Couch. The greatest portion of her cargo, being 2,004 kegs and 373 bags of sugar, and [illegible] of pulu, consigned to Messrs. Allen & Lewis. [illegible] 560 kegs sugar, is consigned to Messrs. [illegible], Merrill & Co. The whole importation pays a duty of about $10,000. By this arrival the market is again well stocked with the best grades of Island sugar, some of which is equal to the best production of other countries more celebrated for the article they produce.

DEPARTURE OF THE MONTANA.—The steamship Montana, Capt. J. R. Kelly, commander, took her departure for San Francisco, from this port, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, with 90 cabin and 50 steerage passengers, and freight as follows: 16 cases merchandise, 6 bales merchandise, 7 rolls leather, 21 bbls salmon, 166 hf-bbls do., 311 hf bbls fruit, 183 bales wool, 111 gunnies bacon, 155 green hides, 11 dry hides, 2,436 greaks flour, 20 cases gin, 6 bbls pitch, 15 cases turpentine, 17 kegs eggs, 1 box butter, 33 pcs furniture, 2 sks seeds, 11,123 staves and heading, 3,000 shooks, 1 carriage, 1 wagon, 5 coops fowls.

THANKS.—Barrett has placed upon our table a very select package of newspapers and periodicals, late from the Atlantic States. He has copies of the Galaxy, a new illustrated magazine published by the American News Company, of New York, fortnightly. In glancing over its contents we find much that is interesting. Ballou's [illegible] for June, Harper for June, Mme. Demorest's Monthly Magazine, and lots of others can be procured at Barrett's.

STEAM SAW MILL.—The Oregon Iron Works on Saturday last shipped a splendid portable engine and boiler, constructed to order for Messrs. Abrams & Co., who are about to establish a saw mill on Clark's Fork of the Columbia above Cabinet Falls.

MADE A CALL.—The steam revenue cutter Shubrick, Watson commander, arrived at Astoria on Wednesday of last week, and after a call of two days proceeded on her duties in the coasting survey, and the light house and buoy service.

THE WATER.—Up to noon yesterday the river had receded eleven inches. There is a very strong current in the Columbia. Capt. Snow informs us that the stream ran at least six and a half knots per hour on Saturday.

HEAVY FREIGHTS.—Messrs Hay & Co ship to-day several new, heavy freights wagons, for Messrs. Flanders & Felton of Wallula, to be used on the various routes leading from that point to the mining districts.

DELEGATES MEETING.—The Board of Delegates of the Portland fire department will meet this evening at the Common Council Chamber.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Any information concerning the whereabouts of Mr Nelson Andrus, will be thankfully received at this office.

MAIL TO VICTORIA.—Postmaster Randall will forward a mail to Victoria by the steamer Fidelater, to leave this city on Tuesday night.

Notice.—All members of the Portland Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood are requested to meet at their hall this evening at 8 o'clock precisely, for the purpose of transacting some important business.

WM C O'HARA, Centre.

The Herald says Nicholas Lumsden's songs "will not outlive the rainy season in Oregon."

I should feel particularly happy if the songs on temperance should influence the local of the Herald to remain sober enough to write common sense while the rainy season lasts, for the rain hardly ever lets up.

The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When the system is first attacked with a cough, oppression of the chest, or seated pains in the breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heals the irritated parts and restores the system to health. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 695 AND 621 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

A Wife Wanted.

Ye fair ones attend! I've an offer to make you—
In hymen's soft bonds I am anxious to live,
For I offer, I'm waiting on my union till I take you,
Provide I a will fill the description I'll give

I neither expect nor can hope for perfection,
For that never yet was to be had in a lady,
But choosing a wife I make a selection
Which many in my situation would not

I'd have her no see—I not like a beauty,
For beautiful women are apt to be vain,
Yet with a small dower I would think it a duty
To take her, be thankful and never complain

Her form must be good without art to construct it,
And rather above than below middle size
A something in puzzles my brain to explain it,
The eloquent language must flow from her eyes

She must be well bred, or I cannot respect her,
Good natured and modest, but not very coy;
Her mind well informed—'tis the principal nectar
That sweetens the cup of hymeneal joy

Her home she must love and domestic employment,
Have practical knowledge of household affairs,
And make it a part of her highest enjoyment
To soften my troubles and lighten my care

Her age I would have it at least to be twenty,
But not to exceed twenty five at the most;
And the girls of that age being everywhere plenty
I hope to get one of that numerous host

No fortune I ask—I have no predilections
For glitter or show, or the pomp of high life;
I wish to be bound by the chains of affection,
And now I have drawn you the sketch of a wife.

Removals from Office.

By late telegrams received from the East, it appears that the Senate are considering the propriety of restraining the unlimited power of removal from office by the President. Owing to the relations between Congress and the Executive, and the ill-timed threat of some of the President's new-found friends, that no office-holder shall eat Johnson's (!) "bread and butter" who does not support his political notions, the proposition attracts attention. Apart from the peculiar circumstances which have called the matter up in Congress, the subject is an important one to the public. If the Constitution gives the President the unlimited and unqualified power of removal over all the office holders of the country, the country must submit to it, or amend its Constitution.

It will not do for Congress to attempt to usurp power over the President in this respect, even if the President should proceed to act upon the false assumption and unworthy motive, that the offices of this great country are his "bread and butter," to be used for feeding and stimulating the growth of his particular opinions or notions. If this power belongs to the President exclusively, there is no remedy for an abuse of it, except that of impeachment. What might and what might not constitute an abuse of this power, so as to justly subject the President to the penalty of impeachment, would be difficult to determine beforehand. To distribute the public offices for pecuniary gain would be equivalent to bribery, and would doubtless be considered a sufficient ground for impeachment. To remove a competent and worthy officer to make room for the appointment of a political tool who will engage to use the office and himself for the re-election of the President, as the world goes, might not be considered a sufficient ground for impeachment. Yet in morals there is no difference between the turpitude of these two transactions. They are equally reprehensible and dangerous to the liberty of the country, and should be visited by the same condign punishment. But, as we have suggested, it is questionable whether the remedy by impeachment will ever be found sufficient to correct such an abuse of executive power. By means of this very patronage, so unworthily bestowed, the President would be able to so corrupt, paralyze, or divide public opinion as to prevent an impeachment by the House, or a judgment of guilty in the Senate. As punishment for the most palpable abuse of this power by the President is very uncertain and altogether unlikely, the supposed evil is without remedy, unless the Constitution imposes some check upon the President's power of removal, or authorizes Congress to do so.

The words of the Constitution relating to this subject are these: "He shall nominate, and by and with the consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, Judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may, by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments."

The power to nominate—to name the person in the first instance, is exclusively in the President, but the power of appointment is vested in the President and Senate jointly. Neither can appoint without the concurrent action of the other. In the first draft of the Constitution, the power was given to the President to appoint officers in all cases not otherwise provided for by the Constitution; and the advice and consent of the Senate was not required. But in the same draft the power to appoint ambassadors and Judges of the Supreme Court was given to the Senate. An amendment was afterwards reported by a committee, and adopted unanimously, altering the provision.

As the Constitution now stands, it is clear that Congress has full power over the appointment and removal of "inferior officers." They may place the appointment and removal of all those exclusively beyond the power of the President, or they may give it to him in conjunction with the Senate, as to them may seem proper. What are "inferior officers" in the sense of the Constitution, remains to be determined. The phrase will probably be held to include all those not particularly enumerated in the same clause—all officers of the United States not elective, and other than "Ambassadors, public Ministers, Consuls and Judges of the Supreme Court." In all these cases—and they probably include ninety-nine out of one hundred of the lucrative offices in the Government—the remedy for an abuse of the appointing power by the Executive is in the hands of Congress, by simply requiring the consent of the Senate to removals in such cases. (2 Story's Com., sec. 1,544.)

The doctrine of the Federalist was that the power to appoint included the power of removal, and that the appointment being made by the President and the Senate conjunctively, a removal could not be made without the consent of the Senate in any case where the consent of that body was necessary to the appointment. "The consent of that body (the Senate) would be necessary to displace as well as appoint. A change of the Chief Magistrate, therefore, would not occasion so violent or so general a revolution in the officers of the Government as might be expected if he were the sole disposer of offices." (The Federalist, No. 77.) This seems to be the opinion of Story in his commentaries, sec. 1,530. He says that this doctrine of the Federalist "had a most material tendency to quiet the just alarms of the overwhelming influence and arbitrary exercise of this prerogative of the Executive, which might prove fatal to the personal independence and freedom of opinion of public officers, as well as the public liberties of the country. Indeed, it is utterly impossible not to feel that if this unlimited power of removal does exist, it may be made, in the hands of a bold and designing man, of high ambition and feeble principles, an instrument of the worst oppression and most vindictive vengeance."

In 1779, at the first session of Congress under the Constitution, the question of removal arose upon the passage of the bill creating the office of Secretary of State; and, in relation to this officer the House affirmed the power of the removal to be in the President, without the co-operation of the Senate, by a majority of fourteen; but in the Senate the vote was a tie, and the Vice-President gave the casting vote in favor of the bill as it came from the House. This Congressional construction of the Constitution was supported and opposed by the highest talent and patriotism of the country. The conclusion arrived at was doubtless greatly promoted by the exalted character of the President then in office—General Washington. This was asserted at the time, and has always been believed. (Story's Com., sec. 1,543.) At that time, removal from office was never made without cause. During the Washington's Administration of eight years only nine removals took place.

The next action of Congress upon the subject was in the Army appropriation Act, approved February 9, 1863. Section two of this Act provides "Nor shall any money be paid out of the treasury as salary to any person appointed during the recess of the Senate to fill a vacancy in any existing office, which vacancy existed while the Senate was in session, and is by law required to be filled by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, until such appointments shall have been confirmed by the Senate."

This provision was evidently intended to prevent the practice of making appointments without the consent of the Senate, by waiting until that body had adjourned and then filling the office as a vacancy happening in the recess of the Senate. That practice was countenanced, if not sanctioned, by an opinion of Attorney General Wirt of October 22, 1822. He construes the phrase "may happen during the recess of the Senate," as equivalent to "may happen to exist during," etc. (1 Opinion, 631.) But this construction, though limited to extreme cases by its author, is not capable of such limitation in practice. Its limitation would depend only upon the will of the President, because, if he wished to exercise the appointing power without the concurrence of the Senate, he need only to defer the appointment until the recess of the Senate. Then the vacancy would exist during the recess of the Senate. But it would seem an abuse of language to say that a vacancy happened to exist, occurred by accident or unforeseen casualty, when it only existed at that time by the deliberate act of the President for the purpose of avoiding the constitutional restraint of the Senate upon his own action.

In the Act to provide a national currency, approved February 25, 1863, Congress went further. The first section of this act creates the office of Controller of the Currency, and provides that he shall hold his office for five years "unless sooner removed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate."

This Act asserts the power of Congress in accordance with the opinion of Story to limit the Executive power of removal by requiring, as in the case of an appointment, the concurrence of the Senate. The liberty of the country and the purity and stability of the Government will be best maintained by requiring the concurrence of the Senate in removals from office. It was a saying of one of the kings of England "that while the king could appoint bishops and judges he could have what religion and laws he pleased." And if the President can make all officers hold during his pleasure, by exercising the power of removal without control or restraint, he might make himself as absolute a power as the Czar of the Russians.

Whenever the offices of the country are held to be the private "bread and butter" of the Executive, only to be eaten by those abject or pliant souls who are willing to echo his political opinions and labor for his personal advancement, all the officers of the country will be converted into the mere tools and creatures of the President. Then fawning sycophants will monopolize all public patronage, to the exclusion of worthier and abler men. Those who seek office will have every motive to deceive and delude the people, and elections will be corrupted at their very source.

We hail the proposed reformation with pleasure and approval. We hope the matter will be so regulated that no removal of importance can be made without the scrutiny of the Senate and for sufficient cause. Then the race of political hacks and unworthy office-seekers will die out from want of nutrition. Public employment will become respected and stable, and worthy, competent men will be attracted to the service of their country.—S. F. Bulletin.

The Memphis Riots

There is no longer any question as the character of what was at first called the negro riots at Memphis. They were negro riots in the same sense in which the outbreak in July, 1863, in New York, was a negro riot—that is, the negroes were the victims of both. Just what disturbance occasioned the conflict in Memphis will not probably be known, nor is it of much consequence. But it is plain from all accounts that a disturbance, originally trifling, was made the pretext for a general assault upon the negro population of the city, which was continued for two days and nights. In this assault, the police, the firemen, the city authorities and the unorganized mob acted in concert, and were animated with the single purpose to do the greatest amount of damage to the negro population and to their dwellings and churches and school-houses.

The atrocities of the mob were not unworthy of its great New York prototype, which was, perhaps, the most savage yet heard of in a civilized city. Most of the negroes who were shot were butchered on the second day, when there was no longer any resistance, and when the negroes were seeking safety in concealment and flight. We select a few specimens of the pleasantries in which the mob indulged:

"Robert Jones (colored) had just come in from the country and was standing on the corner of Beal and Causey streets, in the forenoon. A man, appearing to be a policeman, took his pistol and $20 in money, and as he turned to leave, thrust a knife into his back, under the shoulder-blade. Another, standing by, known to be a policeman, made no arrest of the robber."

Which shows that the police, unlike our police in 1863, were on the side of the mob.

"A negro was shot in the knee near the corner of Howard's Row and the levee. This was done by a well known individual for the sake of amusement, and was laughed at by the citizens who saw it."

The individual is so well known that the paper from which we quote does not think it worth while, or does not dare, to give his name. But these instances are nothing to the elaborate ingenuity of other cruelties:

"A large number of houses in South Memphis, occupied by the blacks, and some in other parts of the city, were burned. No effort was made to stay the flames. In one case, four negroes were fastened up in a house and the house set on fire.

"A colored man on Adelman street informs us that his house was broken into and about two hundred dollars in money taken, and he beaten over the head; and then the party broke into his neighbor's house, killed him, locked the wife and children in the house, set it on fire and burned it down."

That is almost as good as burning a Colored Orphan Asylum.

"A house near Mr. Rankin's school-house, which was burnt on Tuesday, was fired during the night. A colored girl, 17 years of age, named Rachel Hatchell, who had been a scholar of Mr. Rankin's was sick in this house, and on running out was knocked down, shot and thrown into the fire. Her body lay in the ashes yesterday morning, burnt to a crisp, excepting her head and shoulders. Some one had kindly thrown a shawl over this horrid spectacle."

The reign of terror was complete throughout the city, and the violence or threats of the mob extended beyond the negroes and reached to all who were their friends:

"Loud and repeated threats were made by the rioters that when they had destroyed the colored school houses they would kill the teachers. The threats were so violent, and the rioters having shown themselves capable of any brutality, it was deemed prudent that they should go North. They all left for Cairo on the St. Louis packet. Many of the officers on duty here sent their wives away with these ladies."

What destruction was actually wrought on the property of the negroes themselves is thus summed up:

"The riot was kept up all Wednesday night. Crowds of armed citizens were gathered at the corners. Many were half drunk. The great feat of the roughs was the burning of the school-houses, churches and homes. They seem to have acted in concert, and to have carried out a programme which had been previously arranged. This is shown by the clean sweep which was made of every building used for a colored school or place of worship by the colored people, but more strongly by the conduct of the rioters on the burning of the Collins Chapel. This colored church stands on Washington street, and cost $7,000."

The extracts we have given are from The Memphis Post, a paper which the Copperheads may discredit because it is loyal. They are abundantly confirmed by the admissions and apologies of the Rebel sheets. The Bulletin says:

"The testimony in regard to all these particulars is most conflicting, but all agree on one thing, that those who engaged in the riot were persons of irresponsible character, and it will be unfair to charge these untoward disturbances to the good, law-abiding citizens of the city of Memphis."

—Which is equivalent to saying, we have no defense to offer for the mob except that we did not belong to it. The Avalanche for more explicitly declares:

"The rioter who claimed to belong to the '17th' sought to shield himself from the culpability behind the fair name of an honorable body of men, and had he been a member, he would have esteemed its name too highly to confess connection with a mob guilty of so many excesses."

We have heard many ex-soldiers of the South declare that they would prefer a military administration of municipal authority to that which disgraces the city and State, and by its utter incapacity, gross mismanagement, and prejudices of its agents, has brought upon Memphis lasting evils. The true remedy for all such a now contemplated, consists in the reformation of the city charter."

We might continue both quotations and comments to any extent, but we leave the case to the jury on a fraction of the evidence and without any argument at all. Against the City of Memphis the verdict will be guilty of murder and arson without an effort by any organized authority to prevent or to punish either crime.—New York Tribune.

THE GOLD OF THE RICHMOND BANKS.—It will be remembered that after the surrender of General Lee the military in Georgia captured $100,000 in gold, which was claimed by the Farmers, the Exchange and the Bank of Virginia at Richmond. Recent investigations of the facts, it was, show that a few weeks before the evacuation of Richmond, the Legislature of Virginia passed a law authorizing the said banks to loan the Confederate Government, upon the faith of the State, $300,000 of gold to purchase supplies for Lee's army. This sum was placed by the respective banks to the credit of the rebel Government, and before the surrender of Lee $60,000 was paid, leaving $240,000 belonging to the rebel Government in the banks at the time of the evacuation. The Government therefore claims not only the $100,000 captured in Georgia, but also the $240,000 additional in custody of the banks. This is the present condition of the question. The notes of these banks have been bought up with the expectation that the Government would relinquish its title to the $240,000 of gold.

The editor of the Oregon Herald (Copperhead) having been raked over a bed of heresy hot coals for certain treasonable sentiments published by him in his Pike County Democrat, falls to weeping like a fat two year old boy, and claims protection of his party. He says he has drawn the enemy's fire from less callous, or more fortunate Democrats, and hopes that when (?) the Democratic Governor takes his seat, he will not forget the poor whimpering Copperhead of the Herald.—Flag

GENERAL JOHN A. LOGAN.—The Shawneetown Mercury says it has direct and positive information that General John A. Logan sides with Congress against the policy of the President.

It is well enough to state that we also have similar information, and from the General himself. Among the rising men of this State, Logan now stands in the first ranks, and the people of Illinois will take the first favorable opportunity of showing their appreciation of his valuable services.—Quincy Whig and Republican.

MEXICO.—HOPES IN [illegible].—We find in a number of our prominent exchanges a rumor to the effect that Maximilian has secretly agreed, with Secretary Seward to draw a line from the mouth of the Rio del Norte on the Gulf of Mexico west to a point on the Pacific, near the southern line of the State of Sinaloa, and to cede all the territory of Mexico north of that line, including Lower California and the Gulf of California to the United States, conditioned that that Seward shall agree to recognize the Imperial Government in all the Mexican territory south of that line, and second that a small sum in ready money shall be paid by us to the Imperial Government for the territory so ceded. This territory embraces about 400,000 square miles, or one half of Mexico, and has about 1,200,000 inhabitants, or nearly one sixth of the Mexican population. It would give us the ports of Guaymas, La Paz and Mazatlan, make the Gulf of California an American sea, and forever secure to us the unimpeded navigation of the Colorado river. The Mexican States included are Sonora, Lower California, Chihuahua, Sinaloa, Durango, New Leon, Coahuila, part of Tamaulipas, and part of Zacatecas. The Empire left to Maximilian would still be twice the size of France and have a population equal to that of Hungary. The richest mines belonging to Mexico would be ours, the richest agricultural lands would belong to the Empire. There is nothing improbable in the report, as any change of situation under present circumstances must benefit unhappy Mexico. Our dispatches, however, state that Juarez is confident of being able soon to expel Maximilian, and does not exhibit the least sign of an intention to relax his efforts to that end. Should the rumor prove true, Juarez would find himself in a singular predicament, as a tenant-at-will of the United States.

A CHARACTERISTIC OF LINCOLN.—Cordial sympathy with the people is an essential and indispensable requisite in the executive branch of a popular form of government. This characteristic Abraham Lincoln possessed in a pre-eminent degree. He fully understood that the intelligent and patriotic citizens who made him President had a right to demand that their opinions should be respected in the management of their affairs, and he thus became the embodiment of the collective energies of the loyalty of the nation. He possessed an irresistible influence mainly because his ends and purposes were sanctioned by the only irresistible power that does or should exist in a republican country. Exercising a vigorous judgment on all the perplexing questions of current interest which demanded attention, he labored to enforce the fundamental policy endorsed by the people, and never sought to prostitute his exalted station to the base purpose of thwarting their deliberate judgment on any of the mighty issues created by the wonderful events that immortalized his administration.

THE CONNECTICUT SENATOR.—The Hon. Orris S. Ferry, who has just been elected by the Republican Unionists of Connecticut for a U. S. Senator for six years from the 4th of next March, is a citizen of Fairfield county—a Whig in other years, but a zealous and advanced Republican since there was a Republican party. He has been thrice its candidate for Congress in the District composed of Fairfield and Litchfield Counties.

Mr. Ferry is an able, earnest and effective champion of the principles sustained by Connecticut in her late election, and will prove an admirable Senator.—N. Y. Tribune, May 11th.

BELLE BOYD.—A gentleman who saw this rebel heroine (?) in London a few weeks since, states that she had sued for a divorce from her husband, ex Lieut. Harding, of the United States Navy. Cause, utter worthlessness and dissipation. Harding was also in London, in very destitute circumstances. He tried to obtain a passage in one of the Cunard steamers, under pretense of having lost his ticket, but was landed at Queenstown. His wife, Belle Boyd, was under the protection of an eminent actor in London, who was training her for the stage.

It is stated that during a recent storm in Wisconsin the lightning was seen to strike into the lakes in the vicinity of Madison, and masses of ice two feet in thickness were hurled hundreds of feet in the air, like dust before the sweeper, and the latent heat, set free by the change of vapor to liquid, was so great as to raise the temperature in a few hours from below the freezing point to that of summer (72 degrees), and preserved it there for nearly 24 hours.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle,

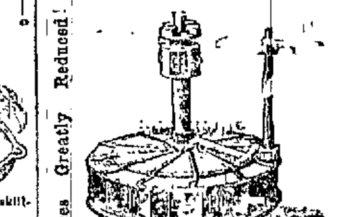
WATER WHEELS.
POWER PLEDGED EQUAL
TO THE
Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.



LEFFEL'S
American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 30 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel now known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS, Medical.

DR. CHAS. H. TOZER'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE,
N. E. Cor. Jackson and Kearney Sts.,
SAN FRANCISCO.

THE GREAT ERADICATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, FORMERLY OF LOCKE HOSPITAL, LONDON, EIGHT YEARS IN SACRAMENTO, AND THE LAST THREE YEARS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Experience is of forty years standing, and during that time I have met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible for me to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar, some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints, and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering. Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache and an Aversion to Social Society, especially that of Females. There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of these, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is an other formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system. The constitution being restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those of you who have visited the two latter countries [illegible] have seen the dreadful effects of it on both the native and foreign population. It requires altogether different modes of treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Ricord, Acton and Bostwick are of little account, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood, which, sooner or later, will show itself as a secondary disease. [illegible] These facts I have learned by experience, [illegible] I can say without boasting that I have [illegible] these diseases than any other physician [illegible], dating as it does from 1822. Diseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Painful Menstruation, etc., [illegible] been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on Dr. TOZER from delicacy or a fear of exposure, as the Doctor is a man in whom you can trust, and all cases are treated with the utmost secrecy.

I even since Dec 17, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick

compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb. 17, time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL much it costs to have such elegant and costly buildings, as the one referred to above.
